Pelley Goes to Prison

Once the Silver Shirts Were Here

William Dudley Pelley, founder of the Silver Shirts of America, was sentenced to 15 years in prison yesterday in federal court at Indianapolis, Ind., on charges of criminal sedition. Once his organizing party was in Hope, and there stood in front of my desk a tall cock-sure blond boy who even then looked and talked like the Nazi Youth that we hear of today in Hitler's Germany.

It must have been five or six years ago.

The Silver Shirt organizing party had held public rallies to obtain memberships in several Arkansas cities, and they wanted to use Hope city hall for that purpose here. Something in the young leader's manner, and his obviously "party line" talk (as though he was reciting something instead of merely conversing with the editor), caused me to stop the interview long enough to read the pamphlet he proposed to distribute at his meeting.

When I got through reading it I told him the newspaper would attack his organization in the editorial column the next day and urged that he be denied the use of the city hall. For we are accustomed to pamphleteering for or against something that can be settled by the people in an election—but we are not accustomed to having young folks running around the country and holding meetings for the purpose of sneering at elections and at the whole framework of representative American government.

This entire matter is recorded in the columns of Hope Star, but it is a tedious job looking through several thousand issues of the bound files to see exactly what was said, and what finally happened.

But I remember blasting the Silver Shirts in an editorial, and my further recollection is that either they were denied the use of Hope city hall or else their meeting was called off voluntarily.

I further recollect criticizing the editors of the papers in the Arkansas cities where the Silver Shirts had already held organization meetings, for it was obvious that these editors had carried announcements without going to the trouble of reading the Silver Shirt "literature" and learning what its objectives were. Had they done so, every other editor would have denounced the Silver Shirts as quickly as I did.

But this was back in peace times. It didn't seem important then, although those young pups, misled by the wily, goateed William Dudley Pelley, were openly and brazenly spreading what is now known as the "Nazi Party Line."

But it is important now, for America is at war with Germany. And so William Dudley Pelley and his Silver Shirt "big shots" are sent to prison.

And they rightly belong there. It is the least we can do, at a time when more than 4 million Americans are under arms, and depending upon the civilian public and the courts to keep the Home Front harmonious and loyal to those fighting in our defense.

American, Charged With Rape, Freed

Somewhere in Britain, Aug. 13 — The first United States army general court martial in Britain today acquitted Private Travis P. Hammond, 25, of charges of rape.

Hammond, whose home is in Keltys, Texas, was accused of raping a 15-year-old English shopgirl who said she met him at a Y. M. C. A. canteen and accompanied him and another couple to several pubs and the cinema on an air raid shelter.

The 11-man court deliberated two hours before reaching a verdict. The trial lasted four days. Hammond was not released immediately. The court said only that he would not be freed "at this time."

Cruisers Seek Nazi Surface Raider

Rio De Janeiro, Aug. 13 —(AP)—Several vessels, which informed sources said may include one or more cruisers, were reported today to be engaged in a search for a surface Axis raider in the South Atlantic, but no word has been received here of contact with the enemy ship.

The search was said to be under way following radioed reports last Monday that at least two and perhaps three Allied merchantmen had been attacked by an enemy raider at a position about 1,000 miles east of Rio De Janeiro.

Informants said the cruisers may have planes to aid them in the search.

Urged to Write Sales Tax Clause in Revenue Bill

—Washington

Washington, Aug. 13 —(AP)—The Associated State Chambers of Commerce joined the National Association of Manufacturers today in urging the Senate Finance committee to write a sales tax into the revenue bill.

Appearing in behalf of the state chambers, Arnold A. Baar of Chicago recommended a retail sales levy, a 35 per cent limit on normal and surtax assessments on corporations and a post-war rebate of all excess profits taxes over 80 per cent.

The Nam program, outlined by J. Cheever Cowdin of New York in advance of his testimony before the committee, called for the raising of $35,200,000,000 in federal revenues in 1943, and the bolstering of the government's financial structure by a $2,000,000,000 slash in non-war expenditures.

The Nam suggested an 8 per cent sales tax and called for heavy increase in corporate and individual income levies, but urged that the combined normal and surtax levies on business be held to 40 per cent instead of the 46 per cent previously voted by the house. It also urged consideration of a compulsory individual savings plan.

Baar told the committee the chambers, which he said included 25 state and two regional organizations, believed that business "cannot possibly produce the additional revenue requested by the treasury."

For that reason he said his organization favored a retail sales tax. He asked also for technical changes in the methods of determining excess profits, for repeal of the capital stock tax and for a 20 per cent tax allowance for individuals and corporations for the purchase of non-interest bearing government bonds.

While urging a sales tax as had the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Nam said a 5 per cent withholding tax on individual earnings, such as the chamber also proposed, was "impractical" and "undesirable."

If the Nam program were enacted, it would double the 17,000,000,000 in revenues existing laws were expected to produce in the current fiscal year, beginning July 1.

The House bill now pending before the Senate Finance committee would add $6,271,000,000 in enactment boosting estimated revenues to $23,271,000,000 in the first full year of operation. This compared with an Nam suggestion that $35,200,000,000 be raised in 1943.

Individual income taxes under the new bill would total $7,917,100,000 on the same basis, whereas the Nam proposed to take $9,000,000,000 from individuals in 1943.

To support the plea for a sales tax, Cowdin pointed out "the people in 22 states and two of the largest cities comprising half the population" already pay such taxes.

H. E. Bowman of Seattle, Wash., told the Senate Finance committee today that the pending revenue bill "probably would end the existence" of the Boeing Aircraft Corp., which manufactures "Flying Fortresses" and other military aircraft.

Asserting that the Boeing company, of which he is treasurer, would have to turn over 88.75 per cent of its net profits in taxes of

Fee for Tire Inspections

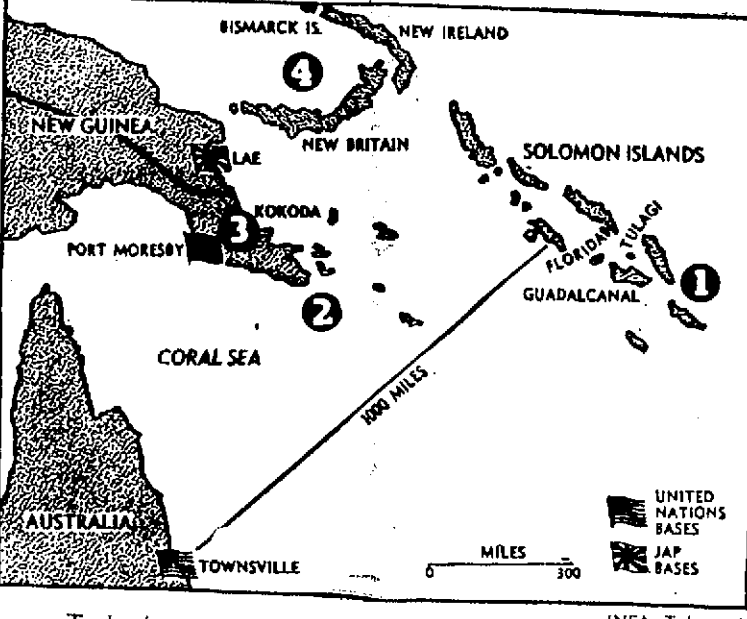

The Hempstead County War Price and Ration Board held a call meeting of all Tire Inspectors and the Labor Management Transportation Committee Wednesday night.

The purpose of this meeting was to explain new regulations and place a set fee on all inspections. The Board was authorized to limit inspectors to four local, three county, and one for the Southwestern Proving Ground.

Local inspectors are: Rae Luck, 700 Service Station; Charlie Harrell, Ford Motor Co.; C. W. Turpley, Turpley's Service Station; and Hervey Holt, Hamm Motor Co.

County inspectors are C. W. Levell and Austin Franks of Blewett. Horbie Cox of Fulton, Southwestern Proving Ground inspector is John Britt. The set fee will be fifty cents on all passenger automobile tires and seventy-five cents on all truck tires. Any inspector found not charging this fee will be removed from our list.

Says Adkins' Critics Hold Majority in State Senate; Two Races Yet Undecided

Little Rock, Aug. 13 —(AP)—An informed member of the Arkansas Senate who declined to permit his identity to be revealed said today that critics of Gov. Homer M. Adkins' administration would have a majority of at least 20 and perhaps 21 members of the upper house at the 1943 legislature.

A survey of the House of Representatives had not been made but it was indicated that substantial strength would be marshalled there.

Governor Adkins had commanding majorities in both House and Senate in 1941 and experienced no difficulty in pushing through desired legislation. A Senate bloc of less than a majority would be unable to hamstring much legislation while state administrations are faced with multitudinous difficulties.

Under legislative rules a majority of 18 votes is required to pass almost any bill through the Senate. Some types of appropriation measures—on which opinion frequently is sharply divided—require 27 votes, while addition of the emergency clause to any bill requires 24 votes.

On this basis as many as nine senators can defeat some appropriations and 12 can defeat an emergency clause.

The legislative rift stemmed from the John L. McClellan-Jack Holt senatorial battle. Eleven of the state senators publicly backed McClellan. Holt was credited with support of the state administration, although Governor Adkins personally made no public statement regarding his preference.

McClellan, in his closing campaign speech, pledged cooperation with Governor Adkins in matters concerning "the good of the state" while the governor last night congratulated McClellan and said "you may count on the whole-hearted cooperation of me and my administration for the best interests of the state."

Another note was sounded, however, by McClellan's campaign manager, former Congressman W. J. Driver of Osceola, who characterized McClellan's smashing victory as "a triumph... over the most powerful and ruthless machines to operate in this state."

Addressing his prepared statement to the general public, Driver said "the state organization, with the support of the infamous

Hitler Reported Massing Men for Stalingrad Drive

—Europe

By The Associated Press
Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were reported massing huge numbers of troops for an assault on the Volga steel city of Stalingrad today and at the same time the German high command said other Nazi columns had captured Elstina in a thrust more than half way across the Caucasus toward the Caspian sea.

Elstina, the capital of the Soviet Kalmuck republic, lies 230 miles southeast of Rostov and only 175 miles from the vitally important city of Astrakhan at the Volga delta.

The loss of Astrakhan would be a serious blow to Russia's river-borne line of war supplies.

Simultaneously, Italian headquarters reported that Axis planes and submarines still attacking a powerful British convoy in a three-day-old battle in the western Mediterranean had inflicted heavy losses above all to aircraft carriers.

The Italian command said the convoy was escorted by "an imposing number of warships, among which were numerous aircraft carriers."

A British admiralty announcement yesterday conceded the loss of the aircraft carrier Eagle.

Such a convoy might be transporting Allied troops or supplies either to reinforce Britain's Imperial forces in Egypt, now stalemate 80 miles west of Alexandria, or via the middle east to Russia.

"The action, still in progress, has shown results favorable to us," an Italian communiqué said. "Exact damage will be announced later."

Hope-Blevins Road Likely

The State Highway Department is working on plans for early construction of the Hope-Blevins highway (No. 29 North) on a new route around the east side of the Southwestern Proving Ground, to be financed by a settlement from the federal government for that portion of No. 29 North which was lost when the Proving Ground area was condemned and taken by the U. S.

This information reached Hope today in a letter written by W. W. Mitchell, director and chief engineer of the State Highway Department, to Senator Lloyd Spencer, of the Senate.

Released by Senator Spencer to Syd McMath, chairman of the roads committee of Hope Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Mitchell's letter to Senator Spencer, dated August 5, follows: Hon. Lloyd Spencer, U. S. S. Hope, Arkansas

Dear Senator Spencer: For the past several months this department has been trying to conclude a settlement with the Real Estate Branch of the War Department at Omaha, covering that portion of Highway 29 taken by the construction of the Southwest Proving Ground. The amount, as tentatively agreed upon, is $128,586.00, and our attorney has been in contact with the Omaha office, trying to work out the details.

It is expected that in the near future this sum will be paid to the Arkansas State Highway Department, to be used in the construction of a new location for Highway 29 between Hope and Blevins in order that the project may go forward promptly when this settlement is effected, we are working up the design for this highway, using a minimum of critical materials.

There is a creek on this routing that will require a good-sized bridge, approximately 100 ft. in length, and it is impossible to get steel at this time—even on projects that carry a high priority rating. We are designing the abutments to be built of plain concrete, wide enough for a standard bridge. For the superstructure we intend to use the old Gulpha Creek bridge, located just east of Hot Springs on U. S. Highway 270, which is now being replaced by a modern bridge and which is carrying from twelve to fifteen hundred cars a day. This structure has only a 12 ft. roadway, but will answer our purpose until the war is over and steel becomes available.

I am giving you this information so that you may know what we are planning for this routing and hope that this procedure will meet with the approval of the people in that vicinity.

Very truly yours,
W. W. MITCHELL

Luftwaffe Hits British Capital

London, Aug. 13 —(AP)—Powerful British air squadrons rained high explosives and incendiaries on Mainz again during the night as Nazi raiders ended London's long freedom from attack by bombing the outskirts of the capital.

The attack on Mainz—the second successive night assault on the German industrial center—was accompanied by raids on Nazi dromes in the low countries, the Air Ministry said.

Five RAF planes were lost in the overnight operations.

Although the Air Ministry did not go into particulars, it was understood unofficially that the "strong force" raiding Mainz compared with that sent against the same city the night before when 250 to 400 bombers participated.

The city's disorganized fire-fighting services and defenses, weary and scattered by the first night attack, were virtually helpless when the raiders came over the second night, an air source said. This accounted for the loss of only five British planes, compared with 16 the night before.

The pre-dawn raid on the greater London area was the first since insurance raiders unloaded a few bombs before daylight on July 30 and some buildings were wrecked.

The attack set off the air raid sirens for the third successive time during the sleeping hours of most Londoners. The alarm lasted only briefly and it was believed at first that the Nazis had sent a lone plane—perhaps a fast long-range fighter—to turn thousands of fire-watchers out of bed and waken the city's millions.

Besides the small German attack on the outskirts of London, a single raider dropped bombs at two points in southeast Scotland and a few aircraft were reported over the East Anglian coast.

At least three persons were injured in a daylight foray on a south coast town by a lone German fighter-bomber.

An audit of recent bomb-trading with the Germans showed the ledger heavily on the credit side for the RAF in June and July.

During those two months 13,000 tons of bombs fell on German cities, a British source estimated. This was 5,500 tons more than in the same period last year and 9,500 tons more than in the same period of 1940.

By comparison, the Germans dropped 450 tons of explosives in the raid on London April 16, 1941, which was the heaviest Nazi air blow on Britain so far.

—War in Pacific

New York, Aug. 13 — The Japanese hold on the Tulagi area in the Solomons is believed to have been broken by American Marines who have been strongly reinforced, Hayden Leonard of the Australian Broadcasting Commission reported today. His analysis of the situation was heard here by CBS.

Leonard was quoted as saying it was believed "The Japanese have been driven from many of their defensive positions after fierce hand-to-hand fighting."

Another Australian broadcast said "Hard and confused fighting is still raging" among the rubber plantations on the high plateau of Kokoda in New Guinea, where the Japanese attempted an overland drive upon Port Moresby.

Hard fighting in which many Japanese were killed and wounded was said to have taken place during the past four days.

Japs Lose Tulagi Harbor
London, Aug. 13 —(AP)—The York-shire Post's naval correspondent said today the Japanese fleet has "lost control of Tulagi harbor" in the Solomon Islands.

"The Japanese fleet has not got back there after the naval action and apparently is being kept clear of the island on which the landings were made," the correspondent wrote.

"The Allies have air superiority and are using it at sea as well as on land," the newspaper's correspondent continued.

He gave no indication of where he had received his information.

By MURLIN SPENCER
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Aug. 13 —(AP)—Firmly entrenched at three points in the Solomon Islands, United States Marines battled to expand their positions today with the immediate backing of Allied sea forces and long-range air assaults on Japanese communications and reinforcement bases.

There was an unconfirmed Australian report that American parachute troops had been used as shock forces.

A spokesman here, asked for comment, said only that he never knew of such troops being landed from ship-based aircraft before.

A Washington Navy announcement that operations had advanced to the point where the Leathernecks were consolidating their holdings in the Tulagi area, in the southeastern Solomons, indicated that initial land opposition had been overcome after six days of savage hand-to-hand combat.

The U. S. Navy's communiqué said the Marines landed as scheduled on three islands, whose names it did not disclose, in the Tulagi vicinity. It added that supporting naval craft were meeting with bitter opposition, suggesting that the Japanese had thrown powerful surface and air units into the defense of their ground forces.

Flying fortresses, striking yesterday at Rabaul, New Britain, in the fifth raid there in five days, knocked out four enemy ships in the harbor of this base from which Japanese troops and supplies have moved to the Solomons.

A 15,000-ton ship and two medium-sized ones were left spouting flames and another large ship was seen sinking by the stern, a headquarters spokesman said today.

One of eight challenging fighters was shot down and from three to six others were hit and damaged. Not a single Allied bomber was lost.

Reconnaissance before today's raid showed a spurt in shipping activity in and about Rabaul, which is some 700 miles northwest of Tulagi, a headquarters spokesman said.

Some 2,000 miles west of the Solomons, Allied airmen attacked Japanese shipping and base installations in the Dutch Timor-Banda sea area with undetermined results.

The U. S. Navy communiqué on the Solomon action said there was substantial evidence that the Japanese since invading the island in January had a base well under way in the Tulagi area.

This presumably was at Tulagi Harbor, potentially one of the finest naval base sites in the southwest Pacific. A major enemy installation there would constitute a direct threat to Australia and islands

Losses Great But Russian Army Still Remains Intact

Have Chance of Holding Nazis in Caucasus

BY DE WITT MAC KENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

The Germans continue their advance in the Caucasus, spreading both ways among the rugged northern foothills of the towering mountain range which forms a barrier across the great Caucasian isthmus separating the Black and the Caspian seas.

On the coasts at either end of this mighty barrier are comparatively narrow routes which lead down into the middle of the east and some of the world's richest oil fields. The Nazi Genhiss Khan is headed for those coastal routes, which may carry him to a great and perhaps decisive victory. If he can travel them, the fighting is fierce and bloody, for the Russians are exacting a terrible price for every foot of ground they surrender.

The picture isn't a cheerful one from our standpoint. Still, while some gloom is bound to creep through the chinks of our armor, especially in these muggy August days, we must remember that nothing decisive has happened yet despite Hitler's spectacular victories.

If the Nazi leader had utterly smashed the Russian army—as he has been trying to do—the story would be different. Then something decisive would have happened. But so long as the Red fighting machine continues to function as a unit, the Russians aren't beaten by a long way and Herr Hitler has plenty of trouble on his hands.

Some military observers believe the Nazis have the strength to battle their way down both coastal routes to Batum and Baku, thus acquiring invaluable strategic positions and capturing the oil which they need to enable them to continue the war. That would be a disaster for the Allies.

It must be admitted at once that this is a possibility. There's no use blinking the fact that the situation is serious. Still, there are a good many of us who can't see that such a break-through is inevitable. On the contrary, I believe the Russians have a fair chance of keeping the Germans north of the Caucasian mountain range.

As a matter of fact, the Turks think perhaps Hitler will halt his drive and consolidate, if and when he has completed his conquest of the northern Caucasus down to the mountains. The idea is that he would rest there through the winter without fresh supplies and still emerge in the spring strong enough to fight his way down the Middle East. By then, mind you, Uncle Sam and John Bull should be ready to do business on a fairly big scale, and the foe who will have trouble on his western front.

New York, Aug. 13 — Trend obscurely ruled in today's stock market despite a slightly more cheerful turn in the far Pacific war news.

While the battle of the Solomons seemed to be going well for the Allies, and signs of a little more resistance by Russian forces were observed, both speculative and investment timidity was almost as pronounced as in the past several weeks.

The fact that low-priced issues, most of which were narrow, accounted for a large portion of the turnover of around 250,000 shares, was none too encouraging for technicians who lean to the idea this sort of leadership is hardly bullish.

The list was a trifle uneven at the start and, in the final hour, with few exceptions, minor gains and losses were pretty well split.

Chicago, Aug. 13 — (AP) — Only small orders were executed in the grain pits today as prices wobbled nervously in a narrow range.

Wheat was fractionally higher at times, reflecting some buying attributed to mills, and rye borrowed strength from the principal bread grain. Corn, on the other hand, declined slightly, ignoring a 22-year top for hog prices and average cattle prices around best levels since 1937.

Increased purchases of corn to come here from country points, which resulted in some hedge selling in the pit, and the report showing 19 per cent fewer cattle on feed in the corn belt than last year helped to depress prices.

guarding the United States-Australian supply line.

With the hurricane-free, 100-foot-deep harbor in Allied hands, it could play a big part in the newly generated offensive to throw the Japanese out of the southwest Pacific islands.

It was announced at headquarters today that Melbourne had an air raid alert last night, but no enemy planes were sighted.

In the Papuan peninsula of New Guinea, where quiet prevailed today, it was disclosed that American Airacobras were used as dive-bombers for the first time in the southwest Pacific last Sunday during a big-scale Allied raid on Japanese positions at Koda, 60 miles across the Owen Stanley range from Allied-held Port Moresby.

The swift fighters unloaded medium bombs on the enemy during 60-degree angle dives and then returned to strafe them in effectively supporting Allied ground operations, it was reported.

The bombing and strafing silenced machinegun nests and destroyed a house, while Australian mountain forces under the direction of a local commander, were cleverly out-manuevering the Japanese on the ground.

American "devil dog" marines appeared to have won the first round in the seven-day-old battle of the Solomon Islands today, beating off furious Japanese counterattacks at three invasion beachheads in the 900-mile-long island chain.

A U. S. Navy communique said the marines, firmly entrenched after six days of violent hand-to-hand fighting, were now consolidating their positions.

Supporting naval forces are engaged in bitter fighting, the navy said.

The communique did not specify whether the enemy was bringing up warship reinforcements or using land-based aircraft to bolster the defense of their ground forces.

However, allied reconnaissance showed a spurt in enemy shipping activity around Rabaul, New Britain, a major base for Japanese troops and supplies moving to the Solomons.

Striking to paralyze enemy reinforcements, American flying fortresses smashed at the Rabaul base for the fifth time in five days yesterday. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said the raiders left a 15,000-ton ship and two medium-sized vessels in flames and a fourth enemy ship foundering.

in the Tulagi vicinity—presumably Florida, Guadalcanal and Malaita. Other far Pacific developments: India. Renewed rioting and clashes with police flared in Mohandas K. Gandhi's six-day-old campaign against British rule in India today, but there were indications that the mass civil disobedience movement was slowly fizzling out.

Dispatches from Bombay, the center of disorder, said the outbreaks there were fewer and smaller.

Reinforced police and troops stood guard in many cities, curfew restrictions were clamped down, and processions and meetings were forbidden.

The worst rioting developed yesterday at Nagpur, where Gandhi's followers in a do-or-die independence campaign burned down three police stations and the postoffice. One rioter was killed and twelve wounded when police fired into the crowds; 19 police were injured by stone-throwers.

At least six other rioters were killed and 16 wounded in outbreaks at Wardha, Poona and old Delhi. New Delhi, the capital, was quiet.

The tally from 2,057 precincts gave Ben E. Carter, Texarkana, former chairman of the utilities commission, 9,659 votes to 97,843 for Arthur L. Adams, Jonesboro, in the campaign to succeed Associate Justice Karl Greenhaw, an interim appointee who sought the Third District congressional nomination.

The final unofficial tabulation swelled former Congressman John L. McClellan's lead to more than 47,000 votes over Attorney General Jack Holt in the race for United States Senate. In 2,077 precincts McClellan had 129,653; Holt 82,514.

Congressman Wilbur Mills was renominated in the second district over O. B. Robbins, Heber Springs. Mills received 23,235 votes from 349 or 358 precincts, Robbins 13,290.

J. W. (Bill) Fulbright, Fayetteville, former University of Arkansas president, was nominated to succeed Congressman Clyde T. Ellis. Fulbright polled 12,499 votes in 260 of 287 precincts to Greenhaw's 8,582.

State Auditor J. Oscar Humphrey was renominated, polling 151,175 votes to 47,767 for Ed Bethune, Little Rock, in 2,057 precincts.

Former U. S. Marshal Guy E. Williams won the attorney general's race over Circuit Judge Duva. Purkins, Warren, getting 125,046 votes to Purkins' 75,901.

Claude A. Rankin, Murfreesboro, polled 107,428 votes in 2,048 precincts to win the land commissioner nomination from John H. Page, who had 92,550.

Ed McFaddin, Hope, was nominated to succeed retiring Justice T. M. McHaffey on the Supreme court by defeating the Justice's son, Charles McHaffey, Little Rock, 107,086 to 92,330 in 2,057 precincts.

The vote in the regular primary far exceeded advance predictions, comparing with 160,000 votes cast in the July 28 preferential primary.

ter."

U. S. Army heavy bombers struck back with a destructive smash at Axis warships in Navarino harbor, on the west coast of Greece, it was announced in Cairo.

A communique said the American fliers scored two direct hits on a cruiser, started black smoke boiling from another cruiser, and caused a terrific explosion aboard a third cruiser after a bomb hit next to it.

As the Axis struck to throttle the United Nations' vital supply routes, the German-controlled Paris radio broadcast a report under an Istanbul, Turkey, dateline asserting that two Russian warships, fully manned, had entered a Turkish Black Sea port and the crews had been interned.

The report closely followed Nazi propaganda assertions that the Russian Black sea fleet, with many of its major bases knocked out or imminently threatened, would either attempt a dash through the Dardanelles or seek refuge in Turkey.

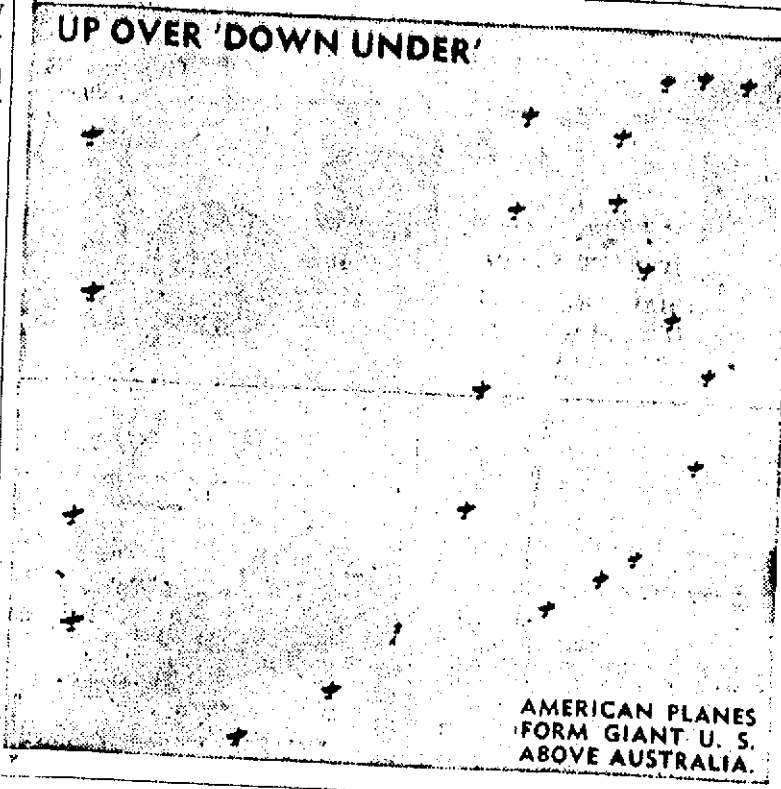

On the Soviet front, dispatches from Moscow said a mighty new German offensive against Stalin-grad appeared to be taking shape as the invaders concentrated vast quantities of men and equipment in the Don river bend.

Front-line advices said that both armies were hurling almost unprecedented numbers of troops into the struggle amid indications that one of the mightiest battles of the war was developing.

The Russians frankly conceded that the situation in the Caucasus, where Hitler's motorized infantry was rapidly overrunning the whole northern Caucasus, was acute.

Waves of 40 to 60 Nazi dive-bombers were reported raining tons of high explosives on towns and villages, leaving the once pastoral Caucasus in flames.

Far to the north, the Germans admitted that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's armies were battering heavily at Nazi defense works in the Voronezh and Rzhnev sectors, southeast and northwest of Moscow, with the Russians taking the initiative at both points.

Nazi Letter to Be Reviewed

By WILLIAM ARBOGAST
Washington, Aug. 13 — The Dies committee, it was learned authoritatively today, will send to President Roosevelt this week a copy of a confidential letter sent from Germany to trusted Nazi sympathizers in the United States advising them that Walter Kappeler had been appointed to head a fifth column front in this country and proving the way for his work.

The FBI is seeking Kappeler in connection with its investigation of a Nazi sabotage ring and has charged he was associated with six saboteurs executed here last Saturday after a military commission trial.

Signed by Kappeler, whom the FBI described as head of "a contemplated German sabotage organization," the letter, bearing the salutation "Hell Hitler," said:

"I have accepted the leadership of the comradeship USA... on the grounds that a central office of the comradeship USA must also exist in time of war... I depend upon the cooperation of everyone."

In view of the fact Kappeler has had more than a year and a half to operate in this country, since the letter was written, the committee was reported to have taken the position that all persons identified with Nazi movements in America should be under constant surveillance.

Along with the letter, it was learned, the committee will send to the White House a list of names of approximately 17,000 persons whose past activities indicated Nazi sympathies.

How the letter came into the committee's possession was not disclosed. It was written in German, dated at Stuttgart, Germany, January, 1941, and bore a admonition that those who received it were to keep it confidential. It was numbered one of what presumably was a series of instructions sent out by Kappeler from the House of Germanism, Stuttgart.

Little Rock, Aug. 13 —(P)—John H. Page, 75, long time state political figure, died last night at his home here less than 24 hours after he was defeated for the Democratic nomination for State Land Commissioner.

Page, who was elected to three successive terms as State Commissioner of Mines, Manufactures and Agriculture from 1912 until 1919 lost the land commissioner nomination to Claude A. Rankin of Murfreesboro in Tuesday's Democratic primary by nearly 15,000 votes.

Generally credited by state political circles as one of Arkansas' most powerful politicians, Page was a member of the House of Representatives from 1903 to 1905.

Boy 14, Pedals 615 Miles

Chattanooga, Tenn. —(P)—David Erwin, of Chicago, wanted to attend a boys' camp in the East Tennessee mountains, so he borrowed his sister's bike and made the 615-mile trip in six days.

The 14-year-old former Chattanooga arrived with a good tan, tired legs and ten cents left from the original seven-dollar traveling fund.

Young Erwin made Attica, Ind., the first day, Terre Haute the second.

"Broke my record the next day," said the youth. "Made 115 miles and passed Evansville, Hopkinsville was next and Nashville was just around the corner."

Some fellow in a big car gave me a short lift, but I had to walk over a steep Tennessee mountain and push the bicycle for more than three miles. That was a challenge and the sailing from here into Chattanooga was just a breeze."

David's mother once rode a bike five miles to Memphis, and his brother, George, had pedaled from Chicago to Okeechobee Lake.

PENNY KIRK AGAIN

CHAPTER VII

SUNLIGHT had a way of softening Penny's resolutions. She had determined to be angry, and to raise the roof when she visited the Kirk offices. Now, with the sun's rays streaming across her bed, she couldn't find a frown in herself.

"What's the smart approach?" she asked herself, sitting up to greet the day. "I know. They'll naturally think I'm dumb. I'll just play dumb."

She picked a well-tailored suit from her wardrobe. To it, she added her furs. Standing before the mirror, she practiced a few subdued facial expressions. She laughed at herself.

Somehow, she felt overdone. What a vast world of difference separated Penelope Kirk and Penny Kellogg, she reflected.

The elevator lifted her swiftly to the fourth floor. A pleasant receptionist smiled a cheery "Good morning. May I help you?"

From her repertoire, Penny selected a bored look. She managed to tilt her nose a couple of notches. "Tell Mr. Stimson that Penelope Kirk is here to see him. And please hurry," she said.

The surprised receptionist jumped to her feet. "Yes, Miss Kirk. Won't you please be seated?" She flew to Mr. Stimson's office with the startling news.

PENNY examined the elaborate and expensively decorated reception room. Its rich carpeting and maroon-leathered easy chairs were luxurious.

Mr. Stimson, perfectly groomed as befitted the supervisor of an industry so vast as the Kirk steel enterprises, hurried down the corridor to greet Penny.

"My, my, Miss Kirk," he panted, out of breath as a result of his unusual exertion. "This is a most pleasant surprise. I have no idea you were anywhere near here."

"New York," Penny said, "is such a bore."

"Yes. Yes. It is, isn't it?" he said. "Won't you come into my office?"

Deferentially, he led the way. "You might give me a cigaret, old dear?" Stimson was obviously flattered by her intimate salutation. He felt more at ease. He smiled as he offered her his cigaret case.

"Well, now that I am here, I suppose I should make the best of it." Then, reflectively, she said, "There is something you can do for me, if you will."

"Just ask, Miss Kirk," he said, eagerly. "I'll be glad to do anything I can."

"My grandfather certainly had some unusual ideas about building a house. I want to make some changes. Could you recommend the best architect in town?"

"Why, yes, Miss Kirk," said Stimson. "I'd recommend Johnathan and Jones. They're the architects who designed my home. Shall I call them?"

"No, thanks. I'll drop in and see them. Just something to do, you know." She rose from the chair that enveloped her. "Thank you so much. I really must be going. By the way, Mr. Stimson, please don't mention my visit to the newspapers or to anyone else. I'm here for a rest. I'll call you again."

HE bowed low, regretted her refusal to have dinner with him, and promised to care for her every whim. She knew he would breathe a sigh of relief the moment the elevator door separated them.

Penny had learned what she wanted to know about the executives of the Kirk mills. Even this short visit revealed how little they knew or cared about Kirktown.

She found the offices of Johnathan and Jones, architects. The reception room was small and practical. The girl at the switchboard doubled as a typist. Her greeting was business-like, brief.

Penny liked Charlie Jones the minute she saw him. He was in his shirt-sleeves, studying two sets of drawings offered to him by two young men.

"Sit down. I'll be with you in a minute," he told Penny, without interrupting his study. He suggested a change, asked a question, and sent his assistants back to their desks.

"Now," he said, smiling pleasantly, "what can I do for you?" "I'd like to order a model village," Penny said.

Charlie Jones was struck dumb. "What... what was that you said?"

Penny laughed. "I just said I'd like to order a model village." Then she continued, eagerly. She introduced herself, assured him he wasn't dreaming, and outlined briefly her plan. From her purse she extracted a clipping.

"Here's a story," she said, "about the model defense village of 300 homes built by an airplane plant to house its workers. The village was built so swiftly that it was finished before people in the vicinity knew what was happening. I want 500 houses, built the same way, on the plateau above the present site of Kirktown."

WHEN he had sufficiently recovered his senses, he caught and enlarged upon Penny's enthusiasm. This, Charlie Jones assured her, had always been his greatest ambition in life. To plan, to build, to work out the details of just such a project, was the Jones idea of heaven.

They talked about comfortable, low-cost houses. They talked about pleasant, shady streets. They located stores in a convenient shopping center. They found room for a swimming pool and playgrounds. They were playing an exciting game.

"Only one thing I must insist upon," said Penny. "I want absolute secrecy. Nobody is to know just what we're doing until it's all done. I want a good job. I want it fast. I want no publicity."

Charlie Jones assured her he'd respect her wishes. His eyes were dancing for joy as he shook her hand. She hadn't been out of his office a minute before all his young assistants poured from their cubbyholes to crowd into his tiny work-room. She knew she had come to the right place and to the right man.

A taxi took her to the bus stop. The slow-moving Kirktown "express" dropped her in front of the Courier office just as the whistle blew for the 4 o'clock train. She skipped happily down the steps.

"Hello Jim," she greeted cheerfully, sailing her straw hat accurately toward a nail on the wall. "How's tricks?"

"Hiya, Penny," Jim smiled. Jim watched her admiringly as Penny swung easily into the routine of her work. He wanted to tell her how much he had missed her, even for a few hours — how much he needed her. Instead —

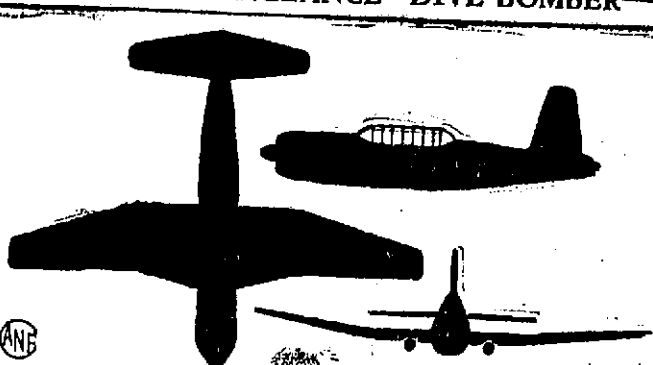

"By the way, Penny, I almost forgot," he said. "You start on your story assignment at the Kirk mills tomorrow. Everything's arranged, provided you promise to be good."

"I'll be good," she answered. "Good and scared. Heaven help the poor working girl alone in a steel mill with 3000 men."

Germans Claim U. S. Carrier Wasp Damaged

GERMANS CLAIM — PAGE 1... Berlin (From German Broadcasts), Aug. 13 —(P)—The German high command announced today that the United States aircraft carrier Wasp had been set afire by six direct bomb hits and now "is trying to reach Malta" as a result of a running attack on a big Allied Mediterranean convoy by German and Italian air and naval units.

(There is no confirmation of this claim. The Wasp delivered planes to Malta in June.)

(The 14,000-ton carrier, completed April 25, 1940, carries a normal complement of 72 planes, maximum 84, and 1,800 men, including flying personnel.)

(The British aircraft carrier Eagle, 22,600 tons, which the British have acknowledged was sunk by submarine attack, was the first victim of an attack on a large convoy which the Germans say has been under way since Tuesday.)

The Germans said that in addition to the destruction of the Eagle, nine freighters totaling 90,000 tons had been sunk thus far. Damaged along with the Wasp, they said, were the 22,450-ton British aircraft carrier that the judge and jury went beyond the indictment in reaching a verdict and sentencing him.

Max, Stephan, 50 years old and German-born, has lost his bravado, and told his attorney:

"I'm in a hell of a mess. "I never said," the rotund Stephan declared, that I'd bet all the tea in China, or anything else, that I wouldn't hang."

Stephan had shouted after his sentence that "Germany will not let me hang."

Troops May Move Strikers

Washington, Aug. 13 —(P)—Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board indicated after a White House conference today that troops might be sent to the strike-closed General Cable Company plant at Bao, N.J., unless the strikers quickly end their defiance of a board order refusing them a wage increase.

Davis would not admit that he had discussed the Bayonne dispute at the executive mansion, where he conferred with Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, a close adviser of President Roosevelt's. The chairman said he hoped the strikers would vote today to settle the controversy.

Asked what the next step would be if no settlement were obtained, Davis said it would be to "send somebody in to remove the picket line and invite the boys back to work."

He nodded assent to a question whether he meant the army.

He said the same situation existed as at the North American aviation plant at Inglewood, Calif., the first taken over by the federal government, where troops moved in after rioting broke out. The North American plant subsequently was returned to private operation.

The strikers demanded a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase and double pay for vacations. President D. R. G. Palmer of the company said the present wages started at 18 cents an hour. The WLB established a three-cent-an-hour bonus for two night shifts.

There was a possibility employees of the company's plant at Perth Amboy, N. J., might take a strike vote tonight unless demands for similar pay increases were met by the management, officials of the Perth Amboy local union said.

Barkeley Congratulates Senator McClellan

Little Rock, Aug. 13 —(P)—Senator Albin W. Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader in the Senate, today telegraphed congratulations to John L. McClellan of Camden on his Senate victory in Arkansas' Democratic primary Tuesday.

"Please accept my warmest congratulations upon your nomination to the Senate," wired Barkley. "We are looking forward to having you with us."

McClellan prepared to leave with his family this afternoon for his home at Camden where a big homecoming celebration will be held on Monday night.

Most of McClellan's major backers, including Senator Hattie W. Caraway of Jonesboro, have accepted invitations and McClellan said he had asked Mrs. Caraway to be his house guest.

Among the flood of congratulatory messages received by the successful candidate today was a letter mailed in Little Rock which has as its only address a newspaper picture of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan. It had been delivered promptly by the postoffice.

Traitor Appeals to High Court

Cincinnati, Aug. 13 — Max Stephan, Detroit restaurant owner convicted of treason, asked the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals today to save him from the hangman's noose.

Court officials said they understood that Stephan's counsel would ask the appellate judges to hear the case at the opening session Oct. 5 to permit presentation of arguments before the Nov. 13 execution date.

Stephan was convicted of speeding the flight of Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug from a Canadian prison camp. Krug was captured in San Antonio, Tex., and testified, as a government witness, against Stephan, that he reached the United States by paddling a stolen rowboat across the Detroit river with a board.

Stephan cited 14 grounds in his appeal from U.S. District Court conviction. He contended that the prosecution failed to have two competent witnesses to the alleged act of treason; that the indictment did not specifically charge him with adhering to and giving aid to the enemy, but to an individual; and

WPB Extends Priority Blanket on Oil

Washington, Aug. 13 —(P)—The War Production Board today extended the oil industry's blanket priority (Pa - 88) order without change until September 15.

The order expired July 31, but producers, distributors and marketers of petroleum products have been obtaining materials under it since that time with tacit WPB consent.

The board said a new order — which has been in preparation for weeks — probably would be issued by September 15 to supplant the old one.

Officials of the Office of Petroleum Coordinator have disclosed that the order being prepared would probably withdraw from the industry the blanket, automatic assistance in obtaining equipment and materials which the present order permits. Shortages of steel, iron, copper and the other materials used by the industry are so critical, it was stated that it will not be possible to continue the blanket priority ratings much longer.

Yanks, Dodgers to Keep Series in New York

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

While it may never earn them a citation from the Office of Defense Transportation, the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers appear determined to save themselves and the baseball fans a lot of travel by keeping the 1942 World Series within a five-cent subway ride.

Both teams won again yesterday, which is hardly surprising in itself, but the secret of their continued success cropped out in the widely divergent methods they employed to accomplish the same result.

At Ebbets Field, the Dodgers went to bat in the ninth inning of a scoreless pitching duel between their ace, Lefty Larry French, and Rube Melton of the Phils. They loaded the bases on two singles and a walk and sent dangerous Dolph Camilli to the plate.

Camilli, however, didn't lay a bat on the ball. He merely waited out a walk which forced the winning run across, giving the Dodgers the verdict, 1-0.

Meanwhile, over in the Bronx, the Yankees went to bat against the Red Sox with the score tied in the last half of the ninth. They also loaded the bases with one away and brought up Charlie (King) Keller.

Keller picked out a pitch he called picked out a pitch he liked, slammed it 420 feet into the right-center field bleachers for his 18th homer of the year and presented the Yankees with an 8-4 triumph.

Brooklyn's success provided French with his 12th victory against only one loss, although his four-hitter was kept by Melton, but it didn't keep the St. Louis Cardinals from picking up half a game and reducing the Dodgers' lead to eight leads.

The Cards downed the Chicago Cubs twice, 9-4 and 8-3. John Beazley registered his 13th pitching victory in the opener, although yielded 10 of the 11 hits and failed to finish, and Harry Gumbert pitched eight-hit ball as the Cards coasted through in the afterpiece on 13 blows, one a homer by Enos Slaughter.

The Cincinnati Reds regained third place, with the help of the Boston Braves and the shutout pitching of Johnny Vander Meer. "Double no-hit" Johnny tossed a three-hitter at the Pittsburgh Pirates in a night contest which the Reds won, 3-0, with Frank McCormick hitting three singles and a double in four appearances and driving in two runs.

Earlier in the day, the Braves knocked the New York Giants loose from their hold on their place by sweeping a doubleheader, 1-0 and 8-2, ending the Giants' five-game winning streak.

The Red Sox, though beaten, tightened their grip on second place since the Cleveland Indians dropped a doubleheader to the Detroit Tigers and watched their losing streak mount to six games.

Murray Franklin's two-run single led the Tigers to a 4-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Elden Auker pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 6-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox, but he had to be rescued in the ninth when the Sox scored all their runs.

A scheduled game between Washington and Philadelphia was postponed.

Pelicans Chill Hot Rocks, Cut League Lead

By The Associated Press

A couple of lefthanders, Bill Seinoth and George Dockins, are keeping New Orleans in the thick of one of the hottest pennant scrambles in the Southern Association in years.

Between them, the two southpaws have won 29 games this season—nearly half of the Pelis' victories.

Seinoth marked up his 10th win against Little Rock Tuesday night and Dockins registered his tenth win last night, 1-0.

Only 30 batters faced Dockins, and only three got to first base—one on a walk, one on an error, while Bob Fausett beat out a hit in the ninth with two out.

Al Moran blanked the Pelis until the ninth when Bill Hart doubled to score Dee Moore, who had singled. It was Moran's eighth loss, compared to 14 wins.

New Orleans grabbed the series, three games to one, and squelched Little Rock's lead to only two and one-half games over second-place Nashville.

A pair of homers by Outfielder Charley Workman of Nashville—his 23rd and 24th of the year—gave the Vols a 3-2 win over Chattanooga in the first game of a doubleheader. The Lookouts won the finale, 3-1, behind the four-hit twirling of Lou Bevil.

Atlanta lost a 11-inning struggle to last-place Knoxville, 5-4, in the opener of a twin bill, but grabbed the second game, 7-4. Charlie Biggs, formerly with Pensacola in the Southeastern League, registered his fourth straight win for Memphis by shutting out Birmingham, 3-0, on five hits.

Atlanta and Birmingham ended up in a fifth place tie in standings, .008 percentage points back of the fourth-place New Orleans. Memphis snapped Birmingham's winning streak at five games.

Today's games:

Nashville at Chattanooga.

Memphis at Birmingham.

Knoxville at Atlanta (2).

Alonzo Stagg to Carry On

Stockton, Calif., Aug. 13 —

There's only going to be one change in the routine for 80-year-old Alonzo Stagg this year.

He's going to handle two jobs instead of one.

The veteran football coach is going to train his College of the Pacific squad — his 53rd campaign — without the aid of an assistant. Ralph Francis, second in command last year, is in the army.

Stagg's reaction to the chore: "I don't think any of our opponents will run over us."

The opponents include such teams as the University of Washington and the star-studded Navy pre-flight school at Moraga.

Hale and hearty as his 80th birthday approaches, Stagg believes the war will have but little effect on the game, and when it's over there will be an expansion in gridiron interest.

Nevada to Have County Fair

At a meeting held this week by the officers and directors of the Nevada County Free Fair Association, it was voted unanimously to hold a two day County Fair during the week of October 5th. The decision to hold the fair was based primarily on a canvass of opinion expressed in the various communities in the county, the returns showing a better than two to one sentiment in favor of holding the fair.

While it is planned to have the usual amusement features such as carnival and grand stand show or rodeo, emphasis will be placed on livestock exhibits, home economics and the 4-H clubs and FFA. President J. R. Bemis has appointed committees to handle all details and work will start immediately on the premium list and 1942 Fair Catalog. Further details regarding progress in the fair program will be announced later.

London, Aug. 13 —

United States army fighting planes have entered the European fray on a large scale for the first time, having engaged in 31 operational sorties during the past 48 hours, the United States European headquarters announced today.

U. S. Fighter squadrons, flying in conjunction with RAF fighter units, made three such flights over the coast of France.

Twenty of the missions were over the sea, and eight were interception sorties off the coast of England, the communiqué said.

Glamour Work in Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood — Glamour factory

Just as many other cities see the new movies before Hollywood sees a look, our town was late in jumping a selected program of the "war effort" films on which it has been working these many months.

Some of the films we saw already are playing the circuits for which they are intended — the training and technical films for the military services, the Office of Civilian Defense, the war production factories.

Others are or will be playing your local theaters where they can be seen with profit by all citizens, for confirmation of the faith of the multitudes, for bolstering the spirits of the downhearted, for warning to the unwary and the loose of lip. "Not at all idiosyncratic, for information and entertainment too.

I found most impressive the short film "Divide and Conquer" and another called "Mr. Blabbermouth." The former is a documentary presentation of the Hitler technique for fostering fear, dissension and division of a nation selected as his prey, in this instance France. The latter is an amusing, but factual, rebuttal to that gentleman we all know in his little role — he fellow who has it straight from the barrelhead that calamity is brewing in the old tea-kettle if it isn't already about to be poured, the fellow who spares no pains to broadcast every war rumor which he hears, preferably on the doleful side.

There's a third film—intended for showing to Army personnel and workers in war production plants—which carries a special wallop. Al it does is show the Army's dependence on production, and to compare the "slave labor" in Axis war production with the free labor of America.

More of these films are coming from the studios every month. Hollywood may have its war heroes before the final reckoning, and its glamour girls may wear themselves out serving coffee and doughnuts to soldiers, but Hollywood's en masse shining, its greatest influence in the war effort, is going to be wielded on celluloid.

And not only in the propaganda shorts and features — the uplifting "Mrs. Minivers" and stirring "Wake Islands" — but in the run-of-the-reel movies.

For in a sense "going to the movies" is an experience in Americanism. Millions of us know our mountains, oceans, prairies, great cities, only through the screen. We can forget some of the Hollywood plots, but there's scarcely a picture that doesn't portray somewhere in its course the American home — be it ever so humble — which is the real heart of America. The lowliest, dullest movie still reflects aspiration, kindness, tolerance, humor, and (no longer a subject for jest!) the American insistence on the triumph of the right.

And there's one thing about going to the movies that is so fundamentally American that it's something to shout about. If you go to a show and don't like it you can walk out. You can even complain to the management — a practice not generally recommended in the lands of the Axis.

Commission Sustains Rail Assessment

Little Rock, Aug. 13 — (P) — The Corporation Commission at an informal hearing today sustained a $9,940,825 tax assessment on Arkansas property of the St. Louis Southwestern railway.

Commission Tax Chief E. W. Brown said the company declared the assessment should not have been more than $9,500,000 but that it did not indicate it would appeal from the commission's action. Formal appeal can be filed during September.

Jap Convoy in Tonkin Gulf

Chungking, Aug. 13 — (P) — An army spokesman said today that an intelligence report has been received saying that Japanese transports carrying more than 20,000 troops were sighted in the Gulf of Tonkin on Aug. 7.

He said there was no indication, however, where they came from or where they were going.

Southernmost China, Thailand and French Indo-China lie from north to south along the coast of the Gulf of Tonkin. Haiphong, Indo-China port on the Gulf of Tonkin, was bombed last Sunday by United States planes based in China.

If the Japanese transports were southbound, as would be reasonable, they might be taking reinforcements into Thailand or Japanese bases in French Indo-China for possible new offensives in southern Asia, perhaps heading toward Burma and the Indian border.

The spokesman said that the Japanese military activity in that region along the upper Yangtze river. Another report, he said, told of 50,000 Japanese troops moved northward recently through Peking, in Anhwei province, on the Tientsin-Pukow railroad. This, however, was taken with a grain of salt, he said, since it told neither from what zones the troops were supposed to have been drawn or where they were being shifted.

A military spokesman disclosed that in land operations, Chinese troops withdrew from Huiwan which they entered a week earlier. Throughout the fight for the town 12 miles south of the central Kiangsi base of Linchuan (Fuchow), a part of the Japanese garrison was said to have held on in a Catholic mission grounds despite repeated attacks.

The spokesman said the Chinese still were pressing their assault upon Linchuan, however.

China marked today as the fifth anniversary of the start of the battle of Shanghai with the assurance of the army newspaper, Ta Kung Pao, that the nation "is determined to counterattack at an early date" and regain the enemy-held city.

WPB Halts All Power Projects

Washington, Aug. 13 — (P) — War Production Board announced today it had halted all construction of electric power and light projects, including 15 partly completed farm projects of the Rural Electrification Administration, because of the need of the armed services for copper and steel.

Since new projects of private utilities already were near a standstill because of earlier restrictions, virtually the entire impact of the action was felt by the REA.

In anticipation of the long-pending move, it was stated, REA Administrator Harry Shattuck issued instructions on July 20 to REA borrowers to halt construction on uncompleted projects.

The Army, which instigated WPB's move, reportedly wished to take over an estimated 400 tons of copper held by REA, but officials of the electrification agency said it would be sold to any purchaser, whether Army, Navy, or other holder of a high priority, which might be designated by WPB.

McInnis Just Talks Baseball

By BOB BROEG
Wide World Features

Manchester, Mass. A ruddy lit man with grey-speckled hair, 34 years removed from the major leagues, talks about baseball with the warmth of a schoolboy for his first love — but John Phelan "Stuffy" McInnis just won't talk about himself.

One of the greatest first basemen ever, a consistent hitter (.308) and author of fielding records that likely will stand unshattered until the two jumps over the moon, McInnis recalls episodes of a brilliant 19-year big league career with clamor until the topic of conversation changes to Stuffy McInnis.

Short, stocky, just the opposite of what usually is required physically for first base, McInnis in 152 games in 1921 made only one error on 1,631 chances for a .999 percentage. Earlier he set fielding records — a nickel a bushie — as first sacker in Connie Mack's great Philadelphia infield that included Eddie Collins, Jack Barry and Frank "Home Run" Baker.

Practice Did It
"Gosh, those fellows were great ball players," Stuffy recalls. "Colts at second and Barry at short tenned up marvellously. Practice, practice — that's all they did, and when they were off the field, they talked about situations that might arise and what they'd do."

Was that infield — with apple-cheeked Stuffy McInnis, a converted kid shortstop, replacing Harry Davis in 1912 — the greatest he ever saw as the Athletics swept to pennants in 1913 and '14?

"Oh, I wouldn't say the greatest. The Cubs of 1910 were great with Frank Chance, Johnny Evers, Joe Tinker and Harry Steinfield. So was the Cleveland infield around then of George Stovall, Napoleon Lajoie, Terry Turner and Bill Bradley, and the White Sox of 1919 had a great infield — Chick Gandil, Collins, Swede Risberg and Buck Weaver."

Calls Chase Greatest
Who, by the way, was the greatest first baseman in his opinion? "Without question, Hal Chase," countered the fielding wizard.

"Hal was great — as graceful as poetry in the field. And, combining hitting and fielding, Gehrig was great. But, gosh, so were Geo. Sisler, Frank Lammell, Bill Terry and Jiggs Donohue."

Conspicuously absent from his list was John Phelan "Stuffy" McInnis, whom oldsters remember as a righthanded first sacker with an amazing reach and a sixth sense that enabled him to anticipate enemy strategy.

McInnis, whose big league career with five clubs extended from 1910 through 1927, spanned the period from the bunt-and-run-like blazes scientific scene to the slug-gins era fostered by Babe Ruth.

Personally, Stuffy preferred the old style. "However, the public apparently wanted the home run and so did the nagates. And salaries grew. I was paid my biggest salary by Pittsburgh in 1926 — when I was 36 years old!"

His greatest thrill, he said, was Home Run Baker's last-minute homer off Christy Matheson that won the 1911 World Series for the Athletics from the New York Giants. But pressed for his biggest personal thrill, all the king's horses could not extract from McInnis more than a simp c:

"The 1925 World Series against Washington."

But an Associated Press dispatch of the hour told the story of the baseball greybeard who came off the bench after the fourth game — when Pittsburgh was within one game of elimination from the Series — and rallied them to the world's championship, beating Walter Johnson, D-7, on a rain-soaked field.

Country Squire, Now
A country squire now, McInnis putters around his garden plays golf at a nearby course that fringes the sea and coaches baseball at Brooks School for Boys in North Andover, Mass. Previously, he coached 12 years at Norwich until baseball was abandoned this spring.

Only six miles from his native Gloucester, which gave him his nickname with a constant repetition of "That's the stuff, kid, that's the stuff," when he played ball among men, Stuffy is content to impart his knowledge of baseball to youngsters.

LEAGUES AS A MAN
Wouldn't he return to the big leagues as a manager? "Not on your life," he smiled. "I'm 52 now, healthy and happy, but I probably wouldn't be if I had a big league ball club. I had my taste of that — managing the Phillies in 1927. I couldn't sleep nights and I wasn't a fit companion for my wife and daughter."

House Votes to Make Dependent Payments

Washington, Aug. 13 — (P) — Legislation permitting the War and Navy departments to make immediate payments to dependents of servicemen under the recently enacted allowance and allotment acts was passed by the House and sent to the Senate today.

The original legislation provided that first payments be made November 1, but benefits started to accrue June 1.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss), sponsor of the amendment, said it was intended to enable the departments "to take care of the needy cases now."

There was no opposition to passage of the bill from among the approximately 30 members present, although previous attempts to consider it had been blocked, and the war department had expressed opposition.
